Dear Website Visitor,

This letter has been in the works for a while. I have been meaning to write a newsletter to send to everyone on my mailing list, and I am glad that the summer has afforded me the time to do so - not being able to find a job right away has its perks! The next couple of months promise to keep me busy for which I am very grateful. There is always a wealth of artwork to make, pictures to frame, and loose ends to tie together.

As far as artwork goes, I am currently working on a set of "four seasons" silkscreen prints that draw inspiration from Vivaldi, Alphonse Mucha, and my own love of the changing seasons. I am thoroughly enjoying the process as well as the final prints. So far, I have completed my prints of "Spring" and "Autumn" while commencing work on "Summer" - the series should be completed within the next couple of months. Silkscreen printing is a lot of fun for me because it allows me to combine painting techniques, printmaking, and the use of multiple colors. You can keep up with my progress by checking my website for updates.

My past semester at Grove City College was very productive and invigorating. I worked as a consultant for a business planning team called Ever Arts Exhibitions, completed an independent study in printmaking, and made it one year closer to earning my B.A. in Philosophy. After graduating next spring, I plan to attend Slippery Rock University in pursuit of my Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. Once I obtain my BFA, I will be in a position to pursue further education in art which will certify me for different forms of employment in the art world including education, graphic design, and work in museum type settings.

I plan on this newsletter being the first of many - I am thinking of sending them out on a bi-annual basis. Also, my Website at MuchaFineArts.com has been completely renovated, so be sure to visit me online for current artwork and news. Finally, I thoroughly appreciate your support of my work and me. It is my pleasure to know you and to have the privilege to share my art with you.

Sincerely,

Nate Mucha
